Local and Miscellaneous Matters.

Our Correspondence.

On the first page of our Washington letter—

A letter sent from the 23rd and 4th, though both were written several days since, they are worth perusal. Also a communication from S. V. D.

We thank our friend "Sourthern," for his interesting letter from Clyde, and hope to hear from him again. The citizens of that stirring town will take notice of a "chill" among you taking notes, "and report to him."

The weather for the past week has been very pleasant. Grass is coming out rapidly. Fruit is beginning to appear, and the indications are for a very favorable season. Beautiful, warm showers fell Wednesday night and Thursday.

Wm. Fuchs has opened his branch Meat Market in the room adjoining Schermer's Harness

Shop on Front Street. Give him a call.

New Goods.—Our merchants have all received and are receiving their new Goods.

A. Gaudin, D. Bette & Co., Garin & Co.,

King & Co., Condit Brothers, Wm. A. Rice.

New Post Master at Tiffin.—We were by telegraph report, that Wm. Gaffney has been appointed Post Master at Tiffin, Ohio.

Council Proceedings.

The old Council met on the evening of the 14th, and finished up their business, there being nothing of importance to transact.

The names of the officers of the Fire Department elected on the 17th March, for the year

1862, were presented and their appointment confirmed by the Council. They are—

Chief Engineer—S. Buckland;

1st Assistant Engineer—L. W. Ward;

2d Assistant Engineer—C. H. Burdick;

Secretary—H. S. Buckland;

Treasurer—Henry Stary.

The amount of orders issued by the Council and remaining unpaid amount to $137.62.

Adjourned sine die.

THE NEW COUNCIL.

Tuesday Evening, April 15th.—The Mayor,

John M. Kline; Recorder, D. W. Krebs; Mayor men, O. A. Roberts, Daniel Capner, Aaron Bennett, Bryan O'Connor, Casper Hodges, Marshall

Wm. Nye, officers called, met at the Council

Room. Ira Smith Justice of the Peace, administered the oath of office to the Mayor; the Mayor then administered the oath to the Recorder and Councilmen.

The bonds of the Mayor and Marshal were read and approved.

By unanimous vote of the Board, Wm. Nye was elected Street Commissioner of the village for the ensuing year.

O. A. Roberts was also unanimously elected

Treasurer of the Board.

The Street Commissioner and Treasurer committed their bonds, which were duly approved and they swore into their respective offices.

The regular meetings were fixed for Tuesday evening of each week.

On motion, the Marshal was instructed to fit up the Council Room at the Engine House, for the meetings of the Council. Adjourned.

Journaling by the Wayside, from Clyde.

Tuesday, April 15, 1862.

DEAR EDITOR:—The tidal waves of life having rolled out for us, we cast anchor for a short time in the village of Clyde, and propose to put a little by the wayside.

Without promising your readers any great truth in these exciting times, when all news of war must come from the seat of war, and yet hoping to find some of the interesting in the

From the 25th Regiment.

Camp Milroy, near Beverly, Va.,

April 24, 1862.

Editor Journal.—Since I last wrote you little of importance transpired for some time. At length after the arrival of two different styles of arms the 25th received the Vincennes Rifles with sword bayonets, which makes us an efficiently armed regiment. The arms are of fine finish, weighing without the bayonet 10 lbs., with bayonet and scabbard 13 lbs. We make a formidable appearance now on parade.

On 1st April, a detachment of 350 men under command of Major Webster, started out into the mountainous regions across Cheat River, called the Dry Fork country, to-day another expedition of 100 men went to Landing Creek; and latter, another of 50 men have gone out. Capt.

Crowell went with the first, and Lieuts. Bowles and Randall with the second. All is expected and we are eager to hear what they are doing.

The right men are out, and something will be done, that's certain. Major Webster is the right kind of a man, and the boys are all so convinced of the rightness of his plan, that they will do anything for him, regardless of consequences. You will soon hear the result of the expedition which will be of more importance than this.

The 25th are now engaged in a campaign, and you can see the signs of the progress of the men to pursue their columns. We are well.

Truly, &c.,

Geo. F. ALFORD.

The Street Sprinkler made his appearance on Wednesday. The dust on Front street had become very annoying.

RETURNED HOME.—E. J. Thayer, who was wounded at the battle of Allegheny Mountain, and who for so long a time was supposed to be dead, has returned home. He is still compelled to use a crutch, but is gradually recovering.

Sorghum Seed.

We have a lot of Sorghum Seed at the JOURNAL OFFICE, which we can recommend.

Those who want must call soon.

We have been shown a document signed by the Mayor of the city of the United States and Canada, certifying to the superior excellence of Dr. Ayre's Compound Extract of Sarsaparilla and to the value of all his remedies as articles of great public utility. Such evidence from such high source bears up and triumphantly in the position we have long maintained with regard to Dr. Ayre's preparations, or more particularly our advertisements of them.

No publisher need be under any apprehension as to the promulgation of quackery in any shape, but we knew when we began, that his
